“ Dear family, Sorry to hear of Jane's passing. I have known Jane since high school. We lost touch for many years but got together a couple of years ago for lunches. It was great to re-connect. I just hated that she had to go thru so much.

“ We are heartbroken to learn of Jane's passing. We never had the blessing of meeting Jane face-to-face, but knew OF her through family and became acquainted WITH her through Facebook. Such bravery and strength Jane projected throughout her struggles. She always had kind words and encouragement for her friends and family, believing for the best for all, including herself. You will be missed forever on this earth, Jane. What a family reunion we will all have when we meet for all eternity in Heaven. We love you.

“ Jane was such a sweet soul. Such a hard worker! I got to know Jane through our church & she volunteered to work with me in the kitchen... she was the strong, silent one & she took it very seriously & I loved that about her. I could always depend on her being there & staying until all was completely done, even when I know she wasn't feeling well, she would show up with her food prepared & ready to work & she outdid me every time. My husband & she worked washing dishes together & he thought she was one awesome lady. We will miss you Jane! You are sick no longer my dear friend.

“ Although I never met Jane personally I learned to know her through correspondence and personal calls. She became very special to many members of our family. My father George Fields was brother to Jane's grandmother Cisiah Fields. I came to know a loving , caring and very special lady I was proud to call my friend and Cousin. I will continue to keep Jane's family in my thoughts and prayers. Her long journey home has ended and now she is at peace.
