“ Melba, my heart bleeds for your loss. I felt so sad for you when I read the news about Bill. I know dad sure did enjoy talking and being around him. Just remember that God is in control and lean upon him. He will get you through all of this, and remember the good times that you all had together.

“ *Melba,
So sorry to hear about your husband and his long illness. I understand you did not get to fulfill your dream of traveling and enjoying your retirement. I'm sure God knows best even when we don't understand.
Praying for you and your family,

“ Words are not expressed to let you know how full of sympathy I am for you. Bill was so special. and you are always thought of as a set, that was matched in heaven. Your heart is broken but the promises of Our Savior will give you comfort. I am sure Vic was waiting to see him. I am so sorry I am still homebound and unable to drive yet. If there is anything I can do just call. I love you, Peg

“ Melba, I know your husband fought a long, hard battle but he finally won it this Monday morning. And he didn't have to fight it alone. Nona told me what wonderful care you took of him so find comfort in that in the days to come. I know they won't be easy. We lost my father-in-law with the same type thing although we lost him after four months of illness so I have a little idea of what you went through. I know the Lord will be your comfort like noone else can be so cling to Him. Love and prayers, Marie

“ Melba, I was so sorry to see Bill's obituary in the paper this morning. I have not known how to get in touch with you since you retired but have thought of you so often. You and Bill had such a good marriage...something we don't see often enough...and I enjoyed your friendship and his way beyond being your client. You are in my prayers tonight.
Love you, Mina

“ Melba, we are so saddened to hear about Bill's passing. We want to extend to you and your family our sincerest condolences.

I am the person that was right next to Bill's room at the Regency Hospital for about two months.

Bill and yourself were a great inspiration to my husband and I.

What a wonderful promise God has made that we shall all be together again someday.

May God comfort you at this time.
