“ It isn't easy to say good-bye to your brother, best friend and partner in crime(even though most of the time we got into trouble when we were younger I am 99% certain it was your idea) It is going to be hard for awhile not to reach for the phone so we can have one of our almost daily conversations. Hope you are fishing! Until we meet again, with brotherly love, Jim

“ Memories of Don....my favorite memories are the phone calls we shared and the times when we could be together and enjoying his sweet little great grandsons. That's what Don was about was family and if I could've spent every day of my life with him it wouldn't have been enough. He was a very giving and kind man. He was funny and gruff and wise and it's like Misty said one day, he wasn't afraid of anything. Well, now he's gone on to his eternal home. He's with Mom, Dad, Granny, Jerry, Cecil, and cousin, Mike. They're having a great reunion and one day I'll be there,too. I can't wait.I love you, Don.
