“ Dear Arlie, I am sorry for your loss, unfortunately I know this feeling all too well. I will say a prayer for peace and comfort for you and the rest of Eli's family. We don't get over these things but we get thru them. I know it doesn't seem possible right now, but later instead of all the pain, some happy memories will shine thru. Lynne Woods Wolfenbarger

“ I am so sorry, I was not able to make it over there for the funeral today and be back in time to pick Noah up from school in Springdale. My heart goes out to you, my spirit is with you, and my prayers are for you. My own son is the same age as Eli and the pain you must be experiencing is my own greatest fear. I pray that Jesus comforts you, carries you, and gives you the courage and strength to go on living - one day at a time, one moment at a time. Keep your eyes upon the Lord and keep putting one foot in front of the other. Gabe, you have always been faithful to the Lord- even when we were in High School. You do not deserve such heartache. When I think of you I think of the story of Job. The Lord has great plans for you - you are His faithful servant - He will restore you. I want to help in any way possible. Free babysitting for Emme, a friend to talk to, or anything else you need. I will check on you soon. You ALL are in my prayers. My heart goes out to you all. God Bless You.

“ I have never met your family but i know Eli made a huge positive impact on some of my grandkids that go to huntsville. Erik Rivas and Hope Braden both knew Eli. They both told me that he was the first one to talk to them at recess when they moved to Huntsville. It was at different times when they met him but for a child like Eli to be so caring for others to welcome them is amazing. He has such a big heart and he will be missed. I want to thank you for having a child that made such an impact on children he was around. He will be missed.

“ My deepest sympathies to you and your family. In such a short amount of time, your little guy made such an impression on our community. When he is described, the first thing I read about is his faith. An 11 year old that made sure all knew he was a believer. I pray you find great peace with that in the coming days.
