“ One of my favorite childhood memories was walking across the field to your annual Easter Egg hunt and going to the store to get a treat or that the good candy was at Georgia Mae and A.T.'s house. But most importantly, I always knew home was just past the blue fence. God Speed Georgia Mae.

“ A.T. I am so sorry that Georgia May is gone. She was such a nice person and I don't believe I ever saw her when she wasn't smiling.

We don't get a daily paper so we didn't know until today, too late to go to the funeral. Our thoughts and best wishes are with you now and in the future. Even though she was in the rest home, she still wasn't physically gone and that will be hard to get used to, I'm sure.

God bless you, A.T. and take care of yourself.9
