“ Never a dule moment where Jayzek didn't have a smile on his face everyday when we got to school it was “Hey Anna how's your morning? and see you at lunch” played Jacky sack sometimes during lunch and if any one was messing with me he would always be there to help me out or tell hey back the heck up she has friends and one time he lied to the bullies and said he was my boyfriend cause they said I would never get one. Jayzek always had my back and I had his.

“ Dear Jayzek's family,

I saw you leaving a flower memorial on the side of the road this afternoon on my way home from work. I don't know you and you don't know me, but I thought about stopping to talk and offer my condolences. I was with him Monday morning. I don't know if you would've wanted to know details of that morning or if my presence would cause more pain. He hasn't left my thoughts all week. I have been praying fervently for his family. I wish there was more I could've done for him that morning. I am praying for you all.

“ Oh Jay I can't stop thinking about your goofy smile when you were up to no good or the little mean muggin stare you tried to do but ended up busting out in laughter. You were the life of the party, you were incredibly loyal, & so very sweet. I wish I could hear your sweet voice saying "I love you Sav" but I have to treasure the memories an notes. Love you angel. Be good up there. See you one day.
