“ This came as quite a shock to me, as I'm sure it was to her family as well, but I first met Jeanne at Hobbs New Mexico when her Dad, Guy and my husband, Curtis Chapman both worked for Schlumberger. He and Evelyn came to Huntsville to live before we followed them here in 1962. Jeanne was 4 years older than our oldest daughter, Cathy but they all went to the Huntsville schools. Then somehow as life interfered with us as it has a way of doing, we lost them. The whole family. But today I was looking for the obit for another friend of ours, and saw this picture of this cute little girl, and thought she looked so very familiar to me, and as I started reading about her, like I said, I was shocked to find out I not only knew her, but knew her parents as well. And Richard, where is he now? Anyway, may you rest in peace, little Jeanne.

“ My fondest memories are listening to her and my grandmother gossip, complain about the men, and cackle at their own foolishness over coffee at the kitchen table. Camping was always better when Jeanne was there! She was one of the strongest and kindest women I've had the pleasure to know in my life. She will be very missed.

“ I remember the first time I met Jeanne, wearing her cheer letter jacket and so cute. Always kind, funny and yes Nicole, she and mom were each other's wingman. It is so hard losing our family pillars as the years add up. Thank you Aunt Jeanne, for a lifetime of amazing memories worth celebrating, you will be sorely missed.
