“ My sympathies go out to the family of Kimmie Dawn. Kim and I worked together in the late 80s at Baldwin Piano. I haven't seen her in years but always saw her on Face Book. I have very happy memories of Kim through work and will always remember our road trip to Florida! She always had that beautiful bright smile on her face even when she didn't feel like smiling.... Rest in peace sweet Kim, heaven just earned another angel....

“ My thoughts and prayers have been with Kim as she so bravely fought this terrible disease. In the same fearless manner that she lived her life, she handled her battle with strength, grace, and dignity that I will always admire. While Kim is free of pain, her absence on Earth will leave those who love her with a huge, painful void. My prayers now transfer to her family who must begin a new life without her. Have faith and God will carry you and comfort you. My heart goes out to you in such a trying, sad time.

“ I am shocked; I had no idea Kim was sick. That a sorry, mean, nasty, underhanded disease like cancer could take the life of a most precious young lady goes against my grain. Surely we can cure this scourge.

“ Never did I hear a negative comment from her. May God Comfort and Heal as only he can. Only god understands how you feel. He knows your pain is real. For he has been there too, he offers his hand to you. Let him help you to overcome, and to go from the cares and sorrows of today and all your yesterdays. He will walk with you towards tomorrow, then await in the dawning days, which lie ahead and wait for your coming there.

“ Baby Sis,

I have so much to say, but the words won't come out! I am so lost right now. I wish I could have been there by your side, I am so sorry. I know that Jesus has you now. I know he will care for you in ways like no other. I love you more than words can describe. No matter how much time passes, you will remain in my heart, my mind, my soul..I miss you so much and it kills me to know that I will never see your beautiful smile again, or hear your laughter, feel your warmth with each and every hug. It is so hard to take this all in. I pray that Jesus continues to be there for those babies of yours! I loev you, baby sis. I will see you again one day, and when that day comes, Iwill again enjoy your warmth, your love.. forever loved... Never forgotten.. I love you Kim Dawn! Your sis, Vicki
