“ Love and prayers to your family Michelle.
Some people have already heard this but one time, in school, I was being picked on. Michelle didn't like what she saw so, although we had never met, she stepped between me and the girls and told them that I was her friend and if they had a problem with me they had a problem with her. I was never picked on again. I will miss you Michelle! You will remain in my heart forever!
