“ I've set and contemplated the right words to write; however, there are no correct words for a loss of a child, brother or friend; therefore, I went to the only place I new of to find the right words, the Bible. I have a couple of versus that stuck with me. There will be no more death or mourning or crying or pain, for the old order of things has passed away. Revelations 21:4 also Isaiah 53:4-6 Surely he took up our pain and bore our suffering, yet we consider him punished by God, stricken by him and afflicted. But he was pierced for our transgressions, he was crushed for our iniquities; the punishment that brought us peace was on him, and by his wounds we are healed.

Grief doesn't come and go in an orderly, confined time frame; it has to be processed by each individual in their own way and in their own time. Nothing can prepare us for a loss of someone we love; however, I hope and pray through Jesus you will find comfort and strength and know that Rand is in a better place and enjoying his time with the Lord.
