“ I will never forget the first time I met Rick. I was a young boy helping gathering and working Cows and Rick rode up next to me and said you have two ways in life I could be what everybody thinks of me or I can prove them all wrong about me. And write before he rode on up the line he looked back and told me he believed in me. It took me a while to realize what he really meant by them words. I have always thought of Rick as a great person and a Father figure. I'm not going to say goodbye because cowboys always says see you later. Ride high on your white horse and keep a close eye on the prairie my friend love you Rick
